

COMPANY

MBJ Consultants Inc. is a Cincinnati, Ohio based company founded in 1992. The company began by providing construction management services locally. In business over 25 years, MBJ has developed into a highly qualified Construction Management and General Contracting firm with additional abilities to provide HVAC duct fabrication & installation, pre-construction consulting, estimating and economic inclusion services. The company qualifies as a certified minority-owned, disadvantaged and veteran-owned business.

Through various relationships with different companies, owners, developers and contractors we have developed core practices that have been beneficial to our business models and job performance. As the complexity and number of jobs MBJ is involved with has increased, so has our ability to align with a diverse variety of companies. This sort of teaming has enabled the MBJ team to not only meet and exceed client requirements, but it has also expanded out versatility and ability to adjust to clients specialized needs.
